

Social Games via Zoom

Positive social connections are important for students with autism and may need more support to make sure that social connections continue. Below are just a few ideas for maintaining and building new social connections with classmates.

- Bob Ross-style paint-along
- Pictionary with Zoom whiteboard
- A virtual book club
- A virtual chess club
- A movie maker club
- A virtual lunch
- Charades
- Karaoke
- Board games
- Card games – try playingcards.io
- Simon Says
- Show and tell
- Would you rather...?
- Scavenger hunt
